

TAX RESIDENCY SELF-CERTIFICATION

IMPACTED CLIENTS

WHICH COMPANIES REQUIRE CERTIFICATION?

The Australian Government has agreed to participate in the exchange of information with other jurisdictions under the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA) and Common Reporting Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (CRS). Financial Institutions are now required to undertake due diligence to determine shareholders' tax residence jurisdictions.

A number of Computershare's clients are impacted by FATCA and CRS and we are assisting these clients to comply by collecting their shareholders' tax residence jurisdictions through self-certification and in some cases reporting this information to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO), which will pass on this information to the relevant jurisdictions authorities.

Disclaimer: The information in this document is not tax advice or advice on tax accounting matters. This document is not intended or written to be relied upon, and it cannot be used by any taxpayer, for the purpose of avoiding penalties that may be imposed on the taxpayer under any taxation laws in Australian or overseas jurisdiction.

In all cases Computershare makes no guarantee, representation or warranty and accepts no liability or responsibility as to its accuracy or completeness.

Important: The below is not a full list of impacted companies, it only covers impacted Computershare clients and those companies who have requested our help in meeting their compliance requirements.
